Inference:
a conclusion or opinion that is formed because of known facts or evidence

Inference with pictures: match the picture to what you think is happening

The kids are going out in the rain.

The baseball team won the game.

The girl dropped her ice-cream cone.

The boy is going on vacation.

Inference with words: after reading the descrption, write what you think is happening

1. Bob walked into the large room. There were lots of books on bookcases and everyone was being very quiet.

_____

2. Mom baked me a cake and is putting candles on it. Everyone is starting to sing to me.

_____

3. The dancers take their places on stage and the music begins.

_____

4. I put on my coat, hat and mittens and go outside. First I roll a big snowball. Then I roll a smaller one and put it on top of the big snowball.

_____

5. Jan dribbled the ball and ran towards the basket.

_____

Inference:

a conclusion or opinion that is formed because of known facts or evidence

Inference with pictures: match the picture to what you think is happening

The kids are going out in the rain.

The baseball team won the game.

The girl dropped her ice-cream cone.

The boy is going on vacation.

Inference with words: after reading the descrption, write what you think is happening

1. Bob walked into the large room. There were lots of books on bookcases and everyone was being very quiet.

Bob walked into a library.

2. Mom baked me a cake and is putting candles on it. Everyone is starting to sing to me.

It's my birthday.

3. The dancers take their places on stage and the music begins.

The dancers are performing on a stage.

4. I put on my coat, hat and mittens and go outside. First I roll a big snowball. Then I roll a smaller one and put it on top of the big snowball.

I am building a snowman.

5. Jan dribbled the ball and ran towards the basket.

Jan is playing basketball.

Spread the Word Nevada