

Name _____

Realistic Fiction: stories that are made up but could actually happen to people or animals in a believable setting

Which sentence, in the following pairs of sentences, is realistic fiction?

- 1. James and his brother hid behind the big tree in the forest, so they would not be seen when they played hide-and-go-seek with their friends.
- 2. James and his pet elephant hid behind the talking tree when they were playing hide-and-go-seek with the other jungle animals.

- 1. The chocolate chips smiled as they fell into the cookie dough, because they knew they would make the cookies taste even better.
- 2. Mom put chocolate chips into the cookie dough to make the cookies taste even better.

- 1. I jumped onto the unicorn's back and we flew away to a magical forest where I could see lots of little fairies flying around.
- 2. I jumped onto the horse's back and we rode off towards the lake, through the green, grassy meadow.

- 1. Pig hadn't seen her best friend, Goose, all morning, so she asked the other farm animals if they knew where Goose was.
- 2. The farmer hadn't seen the goose all morning, so he asked the other farmers if they knew where the goose was.

----- Now It's Your Turn -----

Can you create two sentences and ask your friend or family member to figure out which one is realistic fiction?

1. _____

2. _____
