

Academic Vocabulary Word of the Week Home Connection: Locate

Dear Parents,

Vocabulary instruction is important to all students' academic success and can be made more meaningful by practicing at home the strategies learned at school. Here's why from: Infercabulary, Deena Seifert, 2016

1 It Improves Reading Comprehension: Research has shown that kids need to understand 98% of the words they read to understand what they are reading. Improving vocabulary skills will improve their understanding of novels and textbooks.

2 It's Important to Language Development: Children who develop a rich vocabulary tend to be deeper thinkers, express themselves better and read more. Improving language and literacy skills early in life will help them be more successful academically, occupationally and communicatively.

3 Expressing Yourself in Writing: Having a good vocabulary to draw from can help you write more effectively. Students need to use a more formal tone when writing – not conversational language – and to do that, they need a richer vocabulary to tap into those words we don't use when we speak.

4 Occupational Success: Researcher Johnson O'Connor found that "a person's vocabulary level is the best single predictor of occupational success."* Success in the business place depends on your communication skills.

Academic Vocabulary Word of the Week: Locate

What?

Academic vocabulary words are:

- the words used in the classroom & workplace
- the language of text: reading & writing
- the language of assessments
- the language of academic & occupational discussions
- the language of empowerment

How?

Incorporating Academic vocabulary in multiple ways across the curriculum will help students master the words and commit them to long term memory. Some examples could be: Discuss where to locate __text features, locations on a map, locations around town, items within their homes, directions on an activity etc.__, study the word and its meaning, write directions including where to locate the item, practice program functions during a meet asking the student to locate the button, hunt for the word in a grade level appropriate text, practice geography skills by locating specific places on a map, Etc. The possibilities for practicing the word locate are endless!

Why?

Teaching specific terms in a specific way is probably the strongest action a teacher can take to ensure that students have the academic background knowledge they need to understand the content they will encounter in school. When all of the staff in a school focuses on the same academic vocabulary the school has a powerful comprehensive approach.
